Brandon, Windover Returned To Office By Acclamation

Reeve Charles Brandon

Deputy-Reeve Roy Windover

On Monday evening, November 23 the nomination meeting was held in the Municipal building with some seventy-five ratepayers in attendance.

Reeve Charles Brandon and Deputy-Reeve Roy Windover were acclaimed back into office. For the three Council seats, Reg Booth, Robert Gorrie, Allin Cooper, Bill O'Brien and Doug Pritchard were nominated and all qualified to run for office.

For School Trustee Sybil Hope, Len Lonsberry, Wallace Crofts, Earl Palmer and Keith Hill were nominated, the latter declined to run. Two Trustees are required to sit on the County Board of Education from this township.

After nominations were closed by the chairman Richard Parisotto, clerk of Anson, Hindon and Minden, who did a fine job in conducting the meeting, five minutes speeches were given by the candidates.

Reeve Brandon said many kind words on behalf of council for the late clerk of the township Gordon Bibby who passed away almost a year ago, and went on to introduce Mr. Parisotto, the present clerk.

The Reeve brought to the attention of the gathering the fact that most of the tax dollar was being spent for education. He said, "We just haven't had the money to do the many things which are needed, unless Council was to hike the taxes a great amount. However, we have held the line the last two years, and will have to increase our budget in the next term a little to meet the demands expected of us."

Deputy-Reeve Roy Windover said he has been the chairman for roads in the Municipality and the cost of maintenance for 160 miles of road run the taxpayers $50,000 a year. He explained, "It is possible to do much more work on these roads, but here again we would be running the taxpayers into a large expense, and it is felt by Council that this is the extent of our budget."

Councillor Reg Booth mentioned the fact that it was twenty years ago that he first asked the ratepayers for their support, and said that he would continue to speak out for the things which he felt was in the best interest of the ratepayers. He said, "I know I have made a few bad friends, because I voice my opinion, right or wrong, but at least they know where I stand."

Councillor Robert Gorrie who has been chairman of the lighting system for the township explained the many aspects of his job. He also informed the gathering that it was his responsibility to see that the public buildings were maintained and complimented Zeigfield Weiss who works with him on this, for doing a good job.

Councillor Allin Cooper told the ratepayers that he was the junior member of council having served the last two years. He said that it takes this amount of time to gain the knowledge of the many functions of running a municipality and asked the ratepayers for their support once again. He has been in charge of the fire department and told the gathering that this unit speaks for itself. "It is run efficiently and has very few problems." He went on to say, "The sidewalks also come under my jurisdiction and the black-topping we had done on Main street has worked out well, and is easily maintained."

Doug Pritchard asked for the ratepayers support, explaining that this was a new field for him (Continued on Page 2)

Before I finish off my notes on Phil Graham I have a couple of other little items for you.

Since my good friend Gerald Finlay left the Registry Office he has almost disappeared from view — Lorne Coburn gave me his address the other day, Box 309, Red Lake. Drop him a card.

* * * *

Got a telephone call the other day from one of my readers who asked me a question — "Why is it that the United Church spends so much time through their ministers trying to guide our lives when they can't successfully run a publishing house?"

The caller wanted to remain anonymous — I'm afraid I can't answer the question, maybe one of the readers can help me out.

* * * *

Frank Waters was kind enough to loan me a book which is proving to be interesting reading — written by 81-year-old Hugh A. Campbell of Newmarket it gives quite an insight into the early years of Northern Ontario and concerns some local stories as well Mr. Campbell is related to Mrs. James Fairfield and Mrs. Jack Austin. When I get some information on the life and Adventures of a Pioneer I'll let you know about it. In the meantime Mr. Campbell is quite well-known locally.

Now, to get back to Phil. Just recently Phil got word that Jordan has been placed on the "prohibited list" so that just about kills his hopes for contacting King Hussein — at least for the time being.

Phil has quite a little "guest book" which is signed by visiting "hams" the furthest away guest so far has come from India.

One thing Phil forgot to mention to me was that, during the recent storm in Sudbury he was one of the radio operators who helped out by relaying messages back and forth and standing by to offer what assistance he could.

During my visit we contacted "Lou" in Weston and discovered during our short conversation that he had visited Minden just a short time before to view the colour.

These "hams" sure are a friendly breed of cat and they sure work hard at their hobby. There's so much more involved that I can only repeat what I suggested last week — get in touch with Phil he'll be glad to show you around his "shack".

We can look for more accidents along the new and improved Highway 35 south of Minden — the ones we had have been real dandies — not much left of the cars to repair. This is now a high-speed road and, with long sweeping curves can prove treacherous to the unwary.

Looks like winter is on the way, see you next week — drive carefully, the first few days of snow may find you a little careless, don't let it throw you.

BRANDON AND WINDOVER RETURNED TO OFFICE BY ACCLAMATION

and he would try and do his best in the interest of the ratepayers.

Bill O'Brien told the gathering that he was relatively new in the Municipality but he is greatly interested in the area. He said "I have had a few dealings with the present council and although I hate to use this phrase, I have found them very apathetic to most situations. I hope to contribute some young ideas, and will kindle a fire, something which is now lacking."

School Board Trustee Len Lonsberry told everyone he has always tried to defend some of the high costs for education. "Two years ago the government brought in the County Board System which has never worked at a reasonable cost, however we are better organized now and most of our problems are solved. This year the Board expects to have a $50,000 surplus."

Wallace Crofts said he was a self-employed man, and has found the school tax beyond reason. He said he would like to get involved and try to cut cost wherever possible.

Sybil Hope said she was very concerned with the unbelievable high cost of education and said she would do everything possible to bring this situation into proper perspective.

Keith Hill declined at the conclusion of his speech, in which he said that some other form of raising money for education should be investigated. He told those at the meeting where the costs were and that very little could be done to lower these all but fixed amounts. He defended the criticism regarding the Administrators drawing too much money, saying, "They are doing a fine job, Mr. Hodgson saved the taxpayers $25,000 on his trip to England, which is a big saving to the ratepayers."

Earl Palmer showed his concern for the high cost of education and explained he would like to get on the budget committee, if elected to try and keep costs at a reasonable amount without jeopardizing the education for the students. In answering Keith Hill's remarks, he said he was glad to know that the administrative staff was saving the taxpayers money, and went on to say, "At the price this administrative staff is costing the taxpayers, they should be saving $25,000 here, there, and everywhere, in order to earn their salaries."

After the nomination speeches the meeting was open for questions. Mr. Percy Rowe received support when he brought to the councils attention the poor road conditions and the running loose of dogs. He went on to say, "Bill O'Brien was right about the fire, we certainly don't need the fire department to put out the fire on the present council, for there is none there." He went on to say, "Everytime I go to council about the dogs, they tell me we can't afford a Pound, I tell you people that if we had a Pound, we couldn't afford dog catchers."

A few other questions were asked, and answered by council and the meeting was adjourned.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

The big news this week is the election in Anson, Hindon and Minden. Now isn't that something? Our predictions last week were all but right — the Reeve and Deputy-Reeve by acclamation, while five rather than four will run for the three seats on council. Doug Pritchard was a surprise starter on Monday night. Our School Trustees have Wallace Crofts who wasn't mentioned last week, running with Sybil Hope, Len Lonsberry and Earl Palmer, while Keith Hill declined.

The complete slate looks interesting, and we are expecting a real horse race on election day — one thing is certain, the new faces will add plenty of excitement to the ballot.

So much for the election, more on this next week.

The old Editor, his wife and a very merry gang of renegades, (twelve in all) from Minden travelled to Toronto on Saturday morning for a big day and night in the bright lights. One thing was certain they were not too bright on Sunday for the trip home.

The occasion was a chance, as Bill O'Brien says, "for the chicks to get really dressed up." We took up a whole row at the Royal Alex in the first balcony and watched, what else, "Hair". Most of our gang thought the play was great, but being a little different, my personal opinion was it was highly over-rated, however I enjoyed myself immensely, because of the great company we were with.

I must tell you about a couple of the hi-lites other than Hair — we had a smashing meal at the fabulous "Ed's Warehouse", danced at Ed's Follies and ended up the exciting evening at Dooleys, an Irish night club. Now if you don't think that is a full afternoon and evening, try it sometime — next time I go on an excursion with that group, I am going to train for a week in advance.

As you can see I am running out of gas right now, and I still have a little space to fill — so I will make a prediction for Saturdays game in Toronto. Als 17 Stamps 13. By the way if you want a little Grey Cup action yourself on Saturday, Art Ward is kicking off a big caper at Wig-A-Mog Inn.

Art tells me this is a first for Haliburton County. He has good dance music, prizes and all the rest of the hoopla which goes with the big game. Who knows you might make a big play yourself, and walk away a hero.

I'm sorry I can't make it — just too much HAIR for this week, however I hope to make his big party at New Years, at which time we will turn over a new leaf.

3rd. And Final Part Of A Series

Pollution Probe Report

by Stan and Judy Zlotkin

Camps:

We found that the emphasis on education at the camps was a valuable aspect of the programme. We spoke formally to at least 3,000 young people — people who will have to be the future leaders in the fight against pollution. In all the camps the reaction was one of great interest and potential involvement. Many camps have added a special 'pollution' programme to their camp schedules and are emphasizing a more 'natural' approach rather than making pollution merely a special event. Various of our camps had 'Earth Days' or 'Survival Days'.

At some camps we were able to initiate action-oriented programmes. For example at Camp Gay Venture we were able to provide materials, guidance and the impetus for all the oldest girl campers to canvass Lake Kashagawigamog — the most highly populated lake with cottages, camps and resorts in the Haliburton Highlands area. We therefore found the camp emphasis in our programme to be a vital aspect of that program. We feel that many people who would, in the future, regard the pollution problem in only an academic light may now understand more fully their own personal stake in the future of our environment and therefore will be far more susceptible to a deep involvement and commitment.

Response from Cottagers — Cottage Associations:

We found for the most part a keen interest on the part of individual cottagers about their own lake. We found, however, that most cottagers are not well enough informed about their own pollution problems or potential problems. The ones that feel stymied by the political situation in the cottage country. It was expressed to us frequently how resentful cottagers feel that they are getting practically nothing for their tax dollar. They feel that rather than all the money going to schools and facilities only for townspeople, some money should be apportioned for pollution on the lakes or preventative action.

We tried to initiate enough involvement and concern so that cottagers will make the effort to attend town council meetings and even be elected to council itself. It is only in this way the voice of the cottager can be heard. Many cottagers have expressed the feeling that if they get satisfaction working with council, they will fight the council in other ways, e.g. having all the cottagers who pay school taxes really register their children at the school in the country and pressure through this type of action.

Response from Towns:

We found most people interested but rather wary of any interference. The town is extremely politically oriented with everyone watching out for his own interests before looking to the good of the town. When we addressed the Rotary Club, we found all the businessmen in the area willing to listen and distribute our information. The head of the Chamber of Commerce was most helpful and extremely involved in the problems of the area.

The newspaper editor Al Greir was most helpful and although conservative in his point of view was willing to give us as much press coverage as we wanted.

Huskies Continue Winning Beat Keswick and Bobcaygeon

The Haliburton Huskies have yet to be beaten after 4 games of the regular schedule, and appear to be getting stronger each game as they improve their conditioning. Keswick and Bobcaygeon were the latest victims as the Huskies beat Keswick 8 to 2 on Thurs. night and then trounced Bobcaygeon in Haliburton Sat. night 13 to 3. On Thurs. night the Huskies weathered 22 penalties to the home teams 10 to move into first place and give a good indication of their strength and depth. The teams leading scorer Craig Stamp was absent because of family matters, but the young rookies on the club filled the gap and gave an outstanding performance. Jeff Campbell took Stamps place at centre and played a very good game, just missing goals on 3 occasions. The refereeing in Keswick was very poor and it seemed that the body contact so important in the game of hockey was to be eliminated altogether. Although the Huskies are a very large team as a whole, they play the game as it is supposed to be played, fast and rough. If the referees are so very concerned with eliminating the body contact, they should wait until there is a revision in the rules before calling the games as though the boys were playing basketball instead of hockey.

Jim Cowan and Cam Botting both scored their first of 2 goals early in the first period to give the Huskies a 2 to 1 lead at the end of the first 20 minutes. The Huskies received 7 of the 9 penalties, but managed to outshoot the Keswick club 14 to 11. In the second period the Huskies fired 5 unanswered goals to pretty well wrap up the game. John Wilson counted twice while single markers went to Bob Woodcock, Jim Cowan, and Cam Botting who scored on another one of his famous end to end rushes. Both teams scored one goal in the third with Gerry McElwain receiving credit for the Huskies final goal. The Huskies outshot the Keswick club, 48 to 27. After the Huskies had built up a commanding lead in the 2nd period Dennis Good made his first appearance in a league game, playing steady as Keswick made several attempts to draw the game within reach.

At Haliburton on Saturday night the Huskies were up to full strength and eager to beat their arch rivals the Bobcaygeon Ti Cats. Craig Stamp returned to the lineup and gave the Huskies a 2 to 0 lead on goals at the 3 and 6 min. marks. The nets for the final 20 minutes, rewarded with 4 unanswered goals. Bob Woodcock who plays defence, but has turned into Huskies were penalized several times as the Ti-Cats tried to use a little muscle, but to no avail. The Huskies stuck to hockey for the next period and were Hodgson for the Ti-Cats scored shortly after, but Cam Botting added another goal to end the period at 3 to 1. The period was well played, but once again the quite a scorer, scored his first 2 of 3 for the night and Craig Stamp added 2 more to give him 4 for the evening. The Huskies scored 6 more goals as the Ti-Cats were held to 2 for the rest of the game. Bev. Hicks scored 2, Gerry McElwain, John Wilson, Jamie Carroll, and Woodcock with his 3rd rounded out the scoring. There were several little skirmishes, but nothing serious developed.

The Huskies were proud to see 462 fans at the game, although a former Husky of a few years back, Ron Stackhouse was performing for the California Golden Seals on television. This Husky team could be one of the most talented ever to come out of Haliburton and it appears that the local fans are going to support them to the fullest. There could be other boys on this lineup who could be playing in the NHL in the near future, so come out and see some fine hockey prospects. The Huskies will play in Fenelon Falls on Thurs. night and then the same Flyers who are supposed to have a good team will be at Haliburton on Sat. night. Come out and help the Huskies to another win on Sat.

I've been shopping around for a used car, and I found one last week that I thought I liked. The salesman told me I could take the car out overnight but that I had to sign a contract form which he said he would hold until I returned. When I took the car to a friend's garage, I was told not to buy it. When I returned to the used car lot, the salesman was out and someone else told me that the contract had already been sent in and that the car was mine. What can I do now?

R. F.

Dear R. F.:

If you signed a sales contract with the car dealer, there is nothing you can do to change that unless you can prove that deception was used. You should check with an attorney in this case. The best action you can take is to remember never to get yourself into this situation again.

I'm sure you've been warned several times to be very careful about what you sign and not to sign your name to anything unless you read it and fully understand it. Once you sign a contract, you commit yourself to its terms.

A complaint to the Better Business Bureau and other similar agencies might keep someone else from having the same problem you did, but probably won't help you much.

Your signature, as you no doubt realize now, is a very important thing and shouldn't be used carelessly. It has tremendous power and can be very binding.

In your case, you now own a car that apparently is not much of a bargain because you signed a sales contract without taking the time to fully understand what you were getting into. Let this experience serve as a lesson to you and to all others reading this column.

Don't let anyone talk you into signing your name to anything until you are ready to make a purchase and then be certain that you realize just what you are committing yourself to.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate

This laddie with the winning smile is Ian. He will soon be two. He is a happy, cheerful boy who plays contentedly by himself and gets on well with other children. He loves attention, but does not demand it.

Ian was born prematurely, but has come on well and is in good health. He is alert and active and keeps himself busy exploring. He loves the outdoors. He is a bit slow in talking, but since he seems to have made up for his prematurity in other areas, he is expected to catch up in language development, too.

Ian's background is Austrian, Yugoslavian and Scottish. He is medium-size for his age, with blue eyes, reddish-blond hair and fair skin.

This appealing child needs parents who will not push him or set too high expectations for him, but will enjoy him for his sunny personality. To inquire about adopting Ian please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information ask your Children's Aid Society.

DEER AND MOOSE HIDE COLLECTION

The response to the Department of Lands and Forests appeal to big game hunters in the District for deer and moose hides has been very encouraging. To date, about 40 moose hides and 220 deer hides have been received. Would be donors can still deliver unwanted hides to the nearest Department office. In return a souvenir magnetic compass will be given for each hide donated. The hides will be tanned and used by the Indian handicraft industry in the province. It was felt that many hides end up in the local garbage dump after the hunt and that many hunters would be glad to help in putting them to good use.

SAFETY IS RELATIVE

If you are positive — a positive reactor to the TB skin test that is — chances are you feel relatively safe from the dangers of tuberculosis. According to the Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, however, neither the positive nor negative reactor to the test is particularly safe from developing TB.

"Many people feel that because they have a positive reaction they have developed immunity to TB germs and are unlikely to develop the disease," said Dr. C. W. Jeanes, executive secretary of CTRDA. "True, the positive reactor cannot actually 'catch' tuberculosis from another person, but it is possible for the dormant TB germs to break down into active diseases," he explained. For that reason the person with a positive reaction to the tuberculin test should have a chest X-ray every year.

The person with a negative reaction has never come into contact with tuberculosis and has, therefore, no immunity to the disease. He could quite possibly develop TB if the germs entered his body. On the other hand, the negative reactor has no chance of developing the disease unless she does come into contact with a person with active tuberculosis. "It is important for all negative reactors to have the tuberculin test each year just in case the germs do enter his body," Dr. Jeanes pointed out.

Although many people feel that this disease is no longer a problem in Canada, the Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association reports that last year 5,118 Canadians did have active tuberculosis.

The Association, through its Christmas Seal Campaign supports year-round research on tuberculosis in hopes of eradicating the disease entirely.

Ontario. Is there any place you'd rather be?

Ontarians are the kind of people who wouldn't be here if there was any place better. We are people who came from a hundred lands and stayed to build. People with backbone and brawn and a hunger to succeed. Men and women who've created a standard of living in decades that other lands worked centuries to build. If we have a flaw it's our chronic modesty. Ontarians may be proud to be Ontarians and Canadians . . . they just seldom tell anyone. From an economic point of view that's wrong. The more people we have boosting Ontario and Canada the better it is. And we've got a lot to boost with. In the fight against pollution for example, Ontario has become a world leader. Everyone talks about pollution, we do something. More than a billion dollars has been invested to date to build water supply and sewage systems in dozens of communities throughout the province. We've got laws to prosecute industries that pollute the air and water; loans and grants to help industries that want to do something to stop it. We need a vigorous economy of course, to support these important programs. And, that's where you come in. Though our productivity has doubled in ten years and our incomes in twelve, Ontarians don't sit on their successes. There's a demanding decade ahead full of challenges and opportunities to make the quality of our lives better yet. To meet these challenges we've got to believe in ourselves. Which, when you think about it, isn't such a bad idea.

Everytime you boost Ontario . . . Ontario and Canada get a little stronger.

Government of Ontario (V) John Robarts, Prime Minister.

ABOUT THE TOWN

With Jeanne Sears

Did some of us recognize hockey player No. 21 of the California Golden Seals in the game Saturday night. The boy grew up in West Guilford, Ron Stackhouse made it into the big league hockey at 21. Congratulations and best wishes.

Several funerals since last week with sincere sympathy going to the families and friends of the late Mrs. George Baldwin (Ranson) Cecil Stamp and Victor Alsop.

We understand that the relief supplies for the people of Pakistan are on their way. There was some trouble at the beginning in getting landing places for our planes. These disasters are terrible but the nations of the world are all trying to help these unfortunate victims.

The members of the A.C.W. have elected new officers as follows; President Ilka Lytle, Vice-President Rose Young, Treasurer Phyllis Campbell, Secretary Mary Coneybeare, Social and Family life, Mim Irwin, Catering Joyce Hewitt and General Committee Dora Welch, Dora Dawson and Helen Buttamor.

We note that our I.G.A. Store was closed on Monday so that goods might be reduced in price. This news of lower priced supplies is welcome but watch the labels, they must specify what quality and quantity which they hold.

Patients at the local hospital early this week include Mrs. Doris Cooper, Mrs. Loretta Palmer, Mrs. Maria Vanlieshout, James Wruth, Murray Walker, Jim Elder and Leslie Northey.

Hint of the week — If the youngsters keep pulling or losing buttons off their jackets, use fine nylon fishing line instead of thread.

Persons at the Hyland Crest celebrating birthdays this month were Maude Burns, Gladys Dennis and Bessie Sproats. Hope they all had happy birthdays.

It isn't wise to do much talking when your mad enough to choke. For the word that hits the hardest, is the one that's never spoke. Let the other fellow do the talking till the storm has rolled away. Then he'll do a heap of thinking 'bout the things you didn't say.

Pica Patter

And there was the patient who couldn't pay his doctor as when he slowed up as advised, he lost his job.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Loucks enjoyed a one day visit on Wednesday, Nov. 18 with their son Dr. Orie Loucks from Wisconsin U.S.A. Dr. Orie had given two addresses in Toronto the day previous and was due back in Madison on Wednesday night.

Has been a cold windy week, no snow as yet, but it is blowing a gale today (Monday).

Coming up on Nov. 28 in the continuing series of original Canadian plays on CBC Stage is a drama about student demonstrations and anti-Americanism by Eric Salmon, director of drama, University of Saskatchewan. The Pioneer, in this case, has had its plot suggested by real and current events in this country. Another play, scheduled on Studio 71, Nov. 29, is curiously paralleled by a story in the news, though it was written months before. Helen French's The Next Protest You Hear, is an unusual play about a 20-mo. old baby who refuses to be born. Fred, as he is called, converses with doctors, but shows a great reluctance to make his entry into the world. About a month ago a Jakarta mother showed off her unborn child who recited Islamic texts to all who would listen. In the end, it was all proved to be a hoax.

On Rule and Revolution, Dec. 2, a documentary look at the birth process in a program entitled No Hospitals For Me. I'm Having My Baby at Home. Some mothers-to-be dislike the impersonal hospital treatment, and so are searching for alternatives.

Past winners of the International Tchaikovsky Competition include pianists Van Cliburn and John Ogdon. Englishman John Lill is the 1970 winner, and he is heard, both in conversation and at the piano, on CBC Thursday Music, Dec. 3, in a program recorded in Moscow, along with several other competitors.

The first week in January will be a special week of programming about the West Indies, with Dramas, documentaries, interviews and literary readings about and by the peoples of the Caribbean. As more and more West Indians come to Canada, contributing in their own way to the color of the country, it is important we try to understand some of the problems they leave behind as well as some of the ones they encounter here.

In a Toronto church recently, an overflow audience gave a standing ovation to a group of performers. It was unlikely the church walls had ever witnessed anything quite like it before. The story of the last days of Jesus told through gospel songs and spirituals with the beat of today. Black Hallelujah was devised by CBC radio producer John Reeves, in association with music director, jazz composer Norman Symonds.
